

TALES FROM THE BUNKER

A view of the City from the precipice of the High Street

At its worst the High Street has been sordid, corrupt, ruinous & contaminating.

An area to avoid and forget, let down by decades of mismanagement.

Who is to blame?
The council?
The planners?
The Architects?

It matters not. the past is past, the present and the future is ours.

The High Street is changing and artists have crucial say in what happens! its up to you.

PROLOGUE

We are looking for content for the first edition of Tales From the Bunker to be launched at Mission Gallery on Friday 12th September.

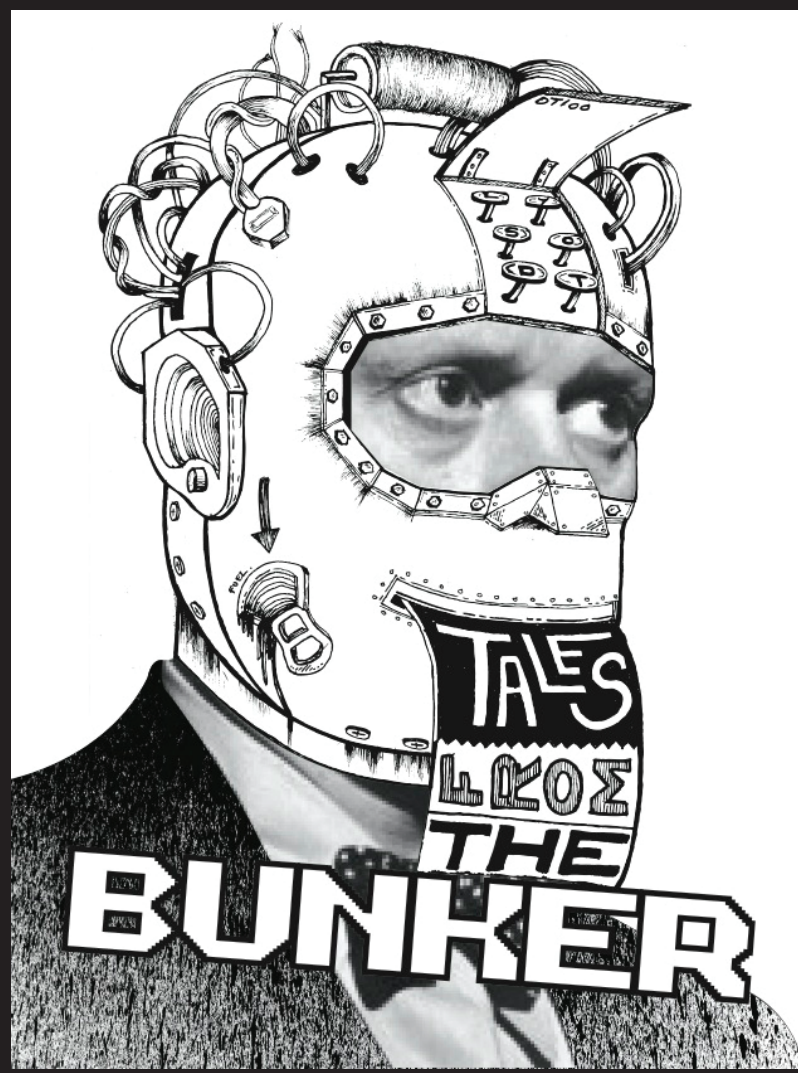

This can take the form of, poems, text, images, photomontage, or a combination of all of these.

Tales From the Bunker will take the form of a series of regular zines, that will be printed in limited numbers.

Not all submissions will make it into the first issue.

But everybody's input will be displayed on the opening night in Mission Gallery

All entries in A6 format (105 x 148mm) 150dpi as a jpeg

decaying, abandoned and unloved, the High Street is being pulled back from the brink...
